An Evaluation of Physician-to-Patient Communication Training in Medical Schools Across the United States: A Status Report on the Nation's Efforts to Promote Health Literacy by Adding Health Literacy Courses to Medical School Curriculum examines the current state of health literacy curriculum in U.S. Medical schools, and other health care training institutes. This research would benefit those considering implementation or expansion of their curriculum in efforts to address health literacy concerns.

- Physiology - Series 4: Neurophysiology
- Photographic Guide to the Butterflies of Britain and Europe
- PHStat2 CD
- Photo London
- Physics Exercises: Questions and Answers
- Physical Education - Primary Source Edition
- Physiotherapie Und Prothetik Nach Amputation Der Unteren Extremitat